

Plugin BigBlueButton

Use this wiki plugin, introduced in Tiki5, to invoke a BigBlueButton in a page.

Parameters

Tiki Doc From Code error: bigbluebutton not found

×

 Tip

You should give both `tiki_p_bigbluebutton_join`, `tiki_p_bigbluebutton_create` and `tiki_p_bigbluebutton_view_recordings` permissions on the room (not globally). This is useful in case the BBB server is rebooted.

Example

{bigbluebutton name="Room-Number" prefix="Guest: " voicebridge="Room-Number" logout="URL-of-the-logout-page" recording="1"}

You can see an example at Live. Below is a screenshot:

The screenshot displays the BigBlueButton interface for a meeting titled "The main meeting room". At the top, there is a blue circular logo with a white 'b' and two buttons: "Permissions" and "Join". Below the logo, it states "No attendees at this time." and shows a small icon of a person. A modal window titled "BigBlueButton" is open, showing configuration options for joining a meeting. The options are:

- Meeting: The main meeting room (MeetingID provided by BigBlueButton.)
- Anonymous prefix: Guest: (Unregistered users will get this token prepended to their name.)
- Welcome Message: Welcome to live.tikiwiki (A message to be provided when someone enters the room.)
- Dial Number: +1-999-999-9999 (The phone-in support number to join from traditional phones.)
- Logout URL: http://tikiwiki.org/Live_ (URL to which the user will be redirected when logging out from BigBlueButton.)
- Maximum Participants: (Limit to the amount of simultaneous participants in the room. Support for this parameter depends on the BigBlueButton server.)

At the bottom of the modal window, there are "Submit" and "Close" buttons.
